

Lund University, Socialhögskolan
SOPM17 and SOAN36: Social Policy in Europe

Welcome to the course!

On behalf of the teaching team I would like to welcome you to the course Social Policy in Europe. The aim of the course is to provide you with analytical tools that enhance your abilities in exploring and explaining social policy making within European, national and local contexts. The comparative perspective will be emphasized.

The course will combine lectures, seminars, small group as well as individual work. The course is offered as an optional semester 7 course within the social work program, as a “freestanding” course and as an optional course within the Master of Science in Welfare Policies and Management at the Faculty of Social Sciences. We hope the mix of students will add interesting perspectives and experiences that will further strengthen and enhance your learning experience.

Please note that the admission letter is only valid if you are duly qualified at the time of course start. If you have any questions on the course requirements please contact Vesna Sehovac at Vesna.sehovac@soch.lu.se.

The first meeting will be an introduction and a first lecture on Monday 2016-08-29 at 13:15 - 15:00 in Room 21 at Socialhögskolan.

We all look forward to meeting you

Kind regards,

Max Koch

Course coordinator

Max Koch, Professor
Lund University
Socialhögskolan
max.koch@soch.lu.se
<http://www.soch.lu.se/>